Description of Incident	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 1) I request investigation of whether my human rights have been violated with regard to incorrect or false background information by comparing the official adoption papers with the original information that the adoption agencies have regarding to ascertain whether: a) There have been changes, adaptations, falsifications of my original background information. b) I have been made an orphan on paper, but that in reality there is information about biological family. c) Whether my age, name and place of birth according to the official adoption papers are correct compared to the original documents in my adoption case. This request is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.1. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 2) I request that the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Korea take the necessary measures to protect all my original documents regarding my adoption for the sake of the security of the documents, the preservation of the historical significance of the documents, as well as the possibility of post-adoption purposes with transfer to the official post- adoption authority in Korea. This request is linked to DKRG's points 3.4.2 and 3.4.3 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 3) I request that the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Korea decide whether the adoption agencies, by withholding my personal and private information, violate my human rights with reference to Articles 7 and 8 of the Convention on the Rights of the Child. This request is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.4. and 3.4.5. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 4) I request that the Korean Truth and Reconciliation Commission take a position on the role and responsibility of the Korean state under the authoritarian rule, including investigating: a) whether the South Korean state have failed to monitor the adoption agencies' practices, which has resulted in an unknown number of Korean children (more than 170,00 children) being sent out of Korea. b) why the adoption procedures, despite a change in the law in 2011, continue to take place in practice in the same unregulated way as during the authoritarian period, and have largely not been regulated. c) That the Commission assesses whether there is a need for institutional changes in the Korean adoption system that do not appear to have undergone any significant changes since the time of the authoritarian rule. This request is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.7. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> 5) As an adoptee, it is important for me to understand the historical background of the adoption system in which I have entered. Therefore, I request the Commission to investigate the following:

- a) That the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigates how many children died in Holt's and KSS' custody prior to the planned adoption date
- b) and investigates how many children died during transport to the recipient country,
- c) and that the commission investigates how many children died upon arrival to the recipient country before the child received the citizenship of the recipient country.
- d) That the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigates how the respective adoptive parents and biological parents were informed of the death of the child.
- e) That the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigates how many children were sent from South Korea in a critical health condition such as e.g. infections or malnutrition.
- f) That the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigates how many adoptees, prior to the adoptees receiving Danish citizenship, who after arrival in Denmark were subjected to abuse, neglect or unworthy treatment.
- g) I kindly ask that the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigate how many children received medical treatment after arriving in Denmark while they were still Korean citizens.
- h) We kindly ask, that the Truth and Reconciliation Commission investigates how many children received medical treatment after arriving to Denmark while they were still Korean citizens.

This request is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.8, 3.4.9, 3.4.10 and 3.4.11

6) I request the Commission to investigate whether I am still registered as a Korean citizen to this day and also investigate whether I am still listed on my biological father's family registry.

This point is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.12 and 3.4.13.

7) I request the Commission to investigate whether I have siblings or half-siblings who either reside in South Korea or who, like myself, were sent from South Korea as international adoptees. If so, I request the Commission to create a basis for the restoration of my human rights via reunification with biological siblings or half-siblings.

This point is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.14 and 3.4.15

8) I request the Commission to investigate the background prior to my adoption:

- a) That the Commission investigates if my biological family members have regretted the adoption.
- b) That the Commission investigates if my biological family members have requested reunification with me, after the adoption has taken place.
- c) That the Commission investigates whether my biological family have objected to my adoption prior to the finalization of the adoption.
- d) That the Commission investigates whether I was given up for adoption by persons other than my biological mother or father (eg grandparents or others).
- e) That the Commission investigates the legal basis for my biological family's transfer of me to the adoption agencies. I request an investigation into whether the handover of the me from my parents to adoption agency or orphanage is based on non-legally binding contracts between my biological parent and adoption agency or orphanage.

This point is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.16, 3.4.17 and 3.4.18.

9) I request the Commission to investigate whether my human rights have been violated in connection with the economic aspects of international adoption, and whether my adoption has been part of a larger context that involved illegal commodification of children or trafficking of children, including:

- a) That the Commission investigates the relationship between voluntary donations from recipient countries to the adoption agencies and actual payment for adoption,

b) and examines whether voluntary donations actually constituted payment for children, which could indicate that voluntary donation has in fact been payment for children masked as voluntary donations, which could indicate commodification of Korean children.

c) That the Commission investigates whether there is a relationship between the size of donations from recipient countries and the range of available adoptees.

d) Thus, the question is whether a larger amount of money donated has led to better access to children for the donors.

This point is linked to DKRG's point 3.4.20

Reasons for the incident requiring truth-finding

As the French philosopher Simone Weil said: "You must know your past to understand your present and shape your future"

(Reasons for the incident requiring a retrial)

Thousands of Korean children are under the authoritarian rule of Korea were sent out as international adoptees. International adoption has been a taboo surrounded by dogmas, taboos and narratives by the adoption's many actors.

For the adoptees themselves, international adoption is characterized by uncertainty for the unreconciled. For the Aggrieved, who have experienced violations of their human rights, uncertainty has been replaced by astonishment, anger and bitterness.

It is time for the truth about international adoption under the authoritarian rule to come out. As adoptees, we demand to be told the truth about interactional so we can reconcile.

I/We hereby submit an application to request truth-finding pursuant to Article 20 of the Framework Act on Clearing up Past Incidents for Truth and Reconciliation and Article 3 of the Enforcement Decree of said Act.
